SECRETARY OF WAUPACA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND CHAIRMAN OF RETAIL DEALERS DIVISION TO MEET HERE

Lee D. Yorkson, secretary of the Waupaca Chamber of Commerce and Elmer A. Hannon, chairman of the retail merchants association, an auxiliary to the Waupaca Chamber, have been invited to assist the local business men at the organization meeting of the proposed retail merchants association Thursday evening at the Hotel Witter. They have accepted and will be here to tell of the success of Waupaca plan of organization of both the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants association which is a part of the chamber. Mr. Hannon is well known here. He is a son-in-law of C. F. Kellogg, president of the Wisconsin Rapids Chamber of Commerce.

Tell of Plans

The Waupaca organizations have been functioning in good shape for several years and have made splendid records in that city. The meeting here will be given over to a discussion of the plans adopted by the Waupaca people and will no doubt be of considerable assistance to the local business men in the organization of their own association. It is said that Waupaca has been well advertised through the work of these two organizations.

Response is Good

According to C. F. Kruger, who is assisting the local retailers in the organization here, there are thirty local merchants who have sent in cards stating they would be present Thursday evening, while there are a good many others still out who are expected to attend. He urges the merchants to attend and to send in cards signifying their intentions as the committee wishes to make ample provisions for all.

The sum of two hundred dollars is the goal set by the club which they intend to turn over to the relief committee of the Federation to be used in child welfare work here during the year.

Plan Many Features

Miss Helen Carroll has been named general chairman of the committee on arrangements and she announces many unique features for the entire evening including feature dances, prize dances, a toy booth and a hat shop. The proceeds from the dance tickets, the booths, refreshments and souvenirs, after all expenses are paid will be given over to the Federation. The sum which the club expects to raise is set at $200 but it is thought that it will be increased.

Successful in Past

In past years the Charity Ball has been liberally patronized by the people of the community and it is expected this year there will be even a larger attendance than in the past two years. A considerable fund was raised last year and good work was done with the proceeds.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS CALLED IN CONFERENCE BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13—A conference of district attorneys of Wisconsin has been called by Attorney General William J. Morgan for December 28 and 29 at Madison. Questions of law enforcement will be considered and a program for cooperative action developed, according to plans.

District attorneys of 50 counties have expressed their intention of attending, while only two unfavorable replies to the attorney general's invitation have been received. It is believed that all but a very few of the 71 officials will be present when the conference takes place.

Effective law enforcement can be obtained best through uniform activity on the part of the district attorneys, in the opinion of Attorney General Morgan. He believes that the work of the attorney general and that of the district attorneys can be best carried out if the experience of each are made known to the whole group, and if a general program is worked out for the state.

It is thought that problems of prohibition enforcement will receive particular attention from the conference because of its present relative importance in cases before the courts of the state.

The last legislature approved that plan of the conference, which was suggested to them through Attorney General Morgan.

CONDITIONAL PARDONS GRANTED BY GOVERNOR

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13—Conditional pardons were granted Clarence J. Rodham, of Platteville, and Henry F. Meyers of Oshkosh, today by Governor Blaine. The application of Henry Hauenstein, Milwaukee, for a pardon was denied.

Rodham, serving an 18 month' sentence for grand larceny, must return to his home and conduct himself as a good citizen. While serving as a lieutenant in the aviation corps during the war he fell, and the governor says, suffered mentally as a result. H. B. Morrow, director of the Wisconsin Mining School is named as his custodian.

Meyers, serving an 18 month's sentence for larceny, must return to Oshkosh and support his mother, abstaining entirely from alcohol.

TAKES POSITION HERE

William Scheidet, formerly of Milwaukee, has accepted a position as meat cutter with the New Meat Markets. He has already taken up his duties with the west side market. Mr. Scheider was employed in several of the largest markets in Milwaukee before coming here and is said to be one of the fastest meat cutters in the game.

VACUUM CLEANER IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire at the residence of D. D. Conway, 7?? Third street south, this morning, resulted in the total loss of one vacuum cleaner. Neighbors noticing smoke streaming from the upstairs window of the Conway home gave the warning, and a search reveal the smoldering remains of the cleaner in its customary resting place under the stairway leading from the second to the third floor.

The cause of the fire is a mystery. The cleaner had been used over an hour previous to the discovery of the fire, and had then been disconnected and put away. Apparently either the motor had become overheated while the machine was in use, or a match had been drawn in through the hose and ignited the dust in the bag.

No damage was done except to the vacuum cleaner.

CHRISTMAS SEALS ARE NOW ON SALE

DOWNTOWN STORES HAVE STOCKS ON HAND; WILL ALSO BE DISTRIBUTED THROUGH SCHOOLS

The Christmas seals of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis society are now on sale at convenient points throughout the business section of the city. A number of schools are also aiding in the distribution of the seals, and those who desire may have them delivered at their homes by phoning the principals of the Lowell school, the Howe school, the Lincoln high school, or the Wood County Normal school. The following are the downtown business houses which are handling the seals. The Model Drug store, the Wood County Drug Store, Church's Drug store, Daly's Drug store, and the Johnson & Hill company store.

Set $500 Minimum

The health committee of the Women's Federation, which is handling the seal sale here, has set $500 as a minimum for the local drive. According to the arrangement under which the Anti-Tuberculosis society conducts the seal campaign, one-half of the money raised in a community will be devoted to combatting consumption in that community. The other half will go to the general fund of the society for work throughout the state.

Wisconsin Rapids people who came in touch with the free chest clinic, conducted here several weeks ago by the society, are very enthusiastic over the work done at that time. The women of the federation are confident that the intimate contact with the work of the society gained by people here through the clinic will greatly stimulate the sale of the seals here, and are hopeful of raising considerably more than the minimum of $500.

Society Needs Funds

Since the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis society began its work, the death rate from consumption in the state has been decreased twenty-five per cent. Officers of the society regard this as no more than a beginning, however, and state that the good already accomplished will be largely lost if the work is handicapped at this time through lack of funds. The number of deaths caused by tuberculosis still exceeds that of any other disease.

O'CONNOR STILL AT LARGE, POLICE HAVE MANY TIPS

THREE DETECTIVES BELIEVED KILLED FOLLOWING CLUE AT HARTFORD, WISCONSIN

(By Associated Press)

Milwaukee, Dec. 13—Albert Boschulte, John Murphy and Edward Kenelly, Chicago detectives, were possibly fatally injured when their automobile overturned near here while they were following a clue that Tommy O'Connor was at Hartford, Wis. The man thought to have been O'Connor proved to be a mechanic looking for employment.

Many False Tips

Chicago, Dec. 13—Reports of the whereabouts of Tommy O'Connor have been coming in from all sections of the middle west. Police and sheriff's officers have been following them up as rapidly as possible, but have uncovered no traces of the escaped murderer as yet.

Police were getting fifty telephone calls an hour at the various stations from persons who thought they had seen O'Connor. In addition dispatches came from Milwaukee, Detroit, Peoria and other cities all of which spoke of evidence indicating the wanted gunman had fled there.

At one time a squad of deputy sheriffs had surrounded a house on the near north side. They didn't find anything. Other reports sent a double squad of police riflemen to the home of Bishop Charles Anderson of the Episcopal church at 16 street and Prairie avenue. They were disappointed.

Chief of Detectives Hughes and Chief of Police Fitzmorris were frank in their opinion that O'Connor would put as much territory as possible between himself and Chicago. They figure Canada, Mexico or Europe will be his first stopping place.

"The same arrangements which were so perfect as to permit his escape will extend beyond that point," Chief Fitzmorris said. "I doubt if he is ever captured.

The chief declared that he did not believe that high officials in the sheriff's office were cognizant of conditions obtaining in the county jail.

STATE EMPLOYMENT SITUATION GROWING WORSE, IS REPORT

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13—Employment conditions in Wisconsin underwent a slight set-back in November over the preceeding month, a survey of the state industrial commission shows. The number of persons employed in factories and mines fell off one-half of one per cent, while total payrolls decreased 1.9 per cent, and average weekly earnings 1.4 per cent.

There has been a reduction of 34.5 per cent in the number of persons employed in the state since July, 1920, 49.5 per cent in the total payrolls, and 22.8 per cent in average weekly earnings which are now $21.41, according to the commission.

These estimates are based on returns from 211 establishments with 58,100 employes and a weekly payroll of $1,245,000. Approximately one-third of the employes in factories and mines are represented in the report.

As compared with October there was an increase in the number of employes in November in the boot and shoe industry, hosiery, meat packing, and stamped metal goods. Decreases were shown in machinery industries, automobiles, and automobile parts, pig iron and rolling mill products, and milk products. Wood working industries, pulp and paper, and tanning had practically the same number of employes.

During the past year there have been decreases of over 50 per cent in the number of employes in the lead and zinc mining industry, iron mining, pig iron, and rolling mill products, foundry and machine shops, automobiles and motorcycles.

BLAINE APPOINTS RODD SUCCESSOR

COURT BATTLE WILL PROBABLY COMMENCE WHEN NEW SHERIFF ATTEMPTS TO ASSUME OFFICE

Madison, Wis. Dec. 13—Governor Blaine appointed Charles Asmundson of Rhinelander, sheriff today to succeed Hans Rodd, who was removed from office yesterday for refusing to obey an executive pardon order issued October 26.

Asmundson was appointed to serve the balance of the unexpired term of Rodd, or until the first Monday in January 1923. He is former sheriff of the Oneida county, and has served two terms as undersheriff. At present he is farming outside of the city of Rhinelander.

Will Contest Office

Issue will be drawn over the authority of the governor to pardon in contempt of court cases, when Asmundson takes office, according to expression of attorneys for Rodd, who expect to contest the case in the state Supreme court.

Appeal to the Supreme court for an injunction restraining the governor from enforcing his order for removal of Rodd pending review of the case by the court, is the course most likely to be followed, according to the belief of attorneys.

It may be that Rodd will refuse to leave his office, necessitating court action by the new appointee, and in this case the matter woul dfirst be disposed of in circuit court before review by the high tribunal.

Supreme Court Will Pass

Further suggestion is made that request for a writ of certiorari may be made to the Supreme court bringing all records in the case before the court for review. In the meantime Rodd would retain his position.

Expression of attorneys for Rodd make it appear certain that the whole matter will be brought before the Supreme court for final determination. Rodd's attorneys contend that there is a vital question of division of power between the judiciary and the executive involved in the controversy.

SENATORS FORM RANKS FOR FIGHT ON RATIFICATION

IRRECONCILABLES PLAN BITTER FIGHT AGAINST TREATY; WORSE THAN LEAGUE, LAFOLLETTE SAYS.

Washington, Dec. 13—The quadruple treaty was formally signed today by the plenipotentiaries of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan. The Americans were the first to sign. The approval of America is given with the understanding with Japan that the American-Japanese treaty regarding Yap will be consummated before the four power agreement becomes binding. Another American reservation attached to the treaty carries the provision that domestic questions of the various powers will not be considered within the scope of the treaty.

Reach Senate Shortly

The American copy of the pact goes to the White House immediately, and it is generally expected that President Harding will forward it to the Senate for ratification within a few days. The Borah, Reed, LaFollette group of irreconcilables has already fired the first guns of what promises to be a senatorial struggle comparable to the fight for ratification of the League of Nations covenant.

LaFollette Opposed

Declaring that the four power Pacific treaty has "all the iniquities of the League of Nations covenant with none of the virtues claimed for that document," Senator LaFollette today announced in a formal statement that he would do all in his power to prevent ratification.

Borah Leads Attack

Senator Borah opened the attack on the agreement on the floor of the Senate yesterday likening article II. of the four power pact to article X. of the league of nations covenant, he insisted that the United States would be under an absolutely compelling moral obligation to go to the aid of Japan and Great Britain in case of aggression upon their Pacific possessions by an outside power.

Is Military Alliance

Senator Borah assailed the treaty because, he argued, it was nothing less than a military and naval alliance, unless the armament conference produced a disarmament agreement far beyond the curtailment contemplated in the 5-5-3 program.

He declared that the conference so far has done nothing towards "real disarmament"; that it has merely proposed to scrap vessels already scrapped by the development of aerial warfare, and that it has done nothing to abolish the use of the weapons with which the next war will be fought namely, the submarines and poison gas.

With the contractants armed with forty dreadnaughts, large numbers of submarines, and the greatest armies in the world, the pact, he insisted, would plainly constitute a military alliance more powerful than any the world has ever before seen.

STATE EMPLOYMENT SITUATION GROWING WORSE, IS REPORT

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13—Employment conditions in Wisconsin underwent a slight set-back in November over the preceeding month, a survey of the state industrial commission shows. The number of persons employed in factories and mines fell off one-half of one per cent, while total payrolls decreased 1.9 per cent, and average weekly earnings 1.4 per cent.

There has been a reduction of 34.5 per cent in the number of persons employed in the state since July, 1920, 49.5 per cent in the total payrolls, and 22.8 per cent in average weekly earnings which are now $21.41, according to the commission.

These estimates are based on returns from 211 establishments with 58,100 employes and a weekly payroll of $1,245,000. Approximately one-third of the employes in factories and mines are represented in the report.

As compared with October there was an increase in the number of employes in November in the boot and shoe industry, hosiery, meat packing, and stamped metal goods. Decreases were shown in machinery industries, automobiles, and automobile parts, pig iron and rolling mill products, and milk products. Wood working industries, pulp and paper, and tanning had practically the same number of employes.

BLAINE APPOINTS RODD SUCCESSOR

COURT BATTLE WILL PROBABLY COMMENCE WHEN NEW SHERIFF ATTEMPTS TO ASSUME OFFICE

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13—Governor Blaine appointed Charles Asmundson of Rhinelander, sheriff today to succeed Hans Rodd, who was removed from office yesterday for refusing to obey an executive pardon order issued October 26.

Asmundson was appointed to serve the balance of the unexpired term of Rodd, or until the first Monday in January 1923. He is former sheriff of the Oneida county, and has served two terms as undersheriff. At present he is farming outside of the city of Rhinelander.

Will Contest Office

Issue will be drawn over the authority of the governor to pardon in contempt of court cases, when Asmundson takes office, according to expression of attorneys for Rodd, who expect to contest the case in the state Supreme court.

Appeal to the Supreme court for an injunction restraining the governor from enforcing his order for removal of Rodd, pending review of the case by the court, is the course most likely to be followed, according to the belief of attorneys.

It may be that Rodd will refuse to leave his office, necessitating court action by the new appointee, and in this case the matter woul dfirst be disposed of in circuit court before review by the high tribunal.

Supreme Court Will Pass

Further suggestion is made that request for a writ of certiorari may be made to the Supreme court bringing all records in the case before the court for review. In the meantime Rodd would retain his position.

Expression of attorneys for Rodd make it appear certain that the whole matter will be brought before the Supreme court for final determination. Rodd's attorneys contend that there is a vital question of division of power between the judiciary and the executive involved in the controversy.

ATTEND MOOSE MEETING AT WAUSAU SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John Jung and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sodin motored to Wausau Sunday to attend a monster meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose at which time about 25 new members were initiated into the legion, known as the second degree of Moosedom.

Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Antigo and Eau Claire were all represented at the meeting. At six o'clock a banquet was served, after which a vaudeville was rendered by a select company of five actors. About three hundred Moose attended the meeting.

SENATORS FORM RANKS FOR FIGHT ON RATIFICATION

Washington, Dec. 13—The quadruple treaty was formally signed today by the plenipotentiaries of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan. The Americans were the first to sign. The approval of America is given with the understanding with Japan that the American-Japanese treaty regarding Yap will be consummated before the four power agreement becomes binding. Another American reservation attached to the treaty carries the proviso that domestic questions of the various powers will not be considered within the scope of the treaty.

Reach Senate Shortly

The American copy of the pact goes to the White House immediately, and it is generally expected that President Harding will forward it to the Senate for ratification within a few days. The Borah, Reed, LaFollette group of irreconcilables has already fired the first guns of what promises to be a senatorial struggle comparable to the fight for ratification of the League of Nations covenant.

LaFollette Opposed

Declaring that the four power Pacific treaty has "all the iniquities of the League of Nations covenant with none of the virtues claimed for that document," Senator LaFollette today announced in a formal statement that he would do all in his power to prevent ratification.

Borah Leads Attack

Senator Borah opened the attack on the agreement on the floor of the Senate yesterday likening article II of the four power pact to article X of the league of nations covenant, he insisted that the United States would be under an absolutely compelling moral obligation to go to the aid of Japan and Great Britain in case of aggression upon their Pacific possessions by an outside power.

Is Military Alliance

Senator Borah assailed the treaty because, he argued, it was nothing less than a military and naval alliance, unless the armament conference produced a disarmament agreement far beyond the curtailment contemplated in the 5-5-3 program.

He declared that the conference so far has done nothing towards "real disarmament"; that it has merely proposed to scrap vessels already scrapped by the development of aerial warfare, and that it has done nothing to abolish the use of the weapons with which the next war will be fought—namely, the submarines and poison gas.

With the contractants armed with forty dreadnaughts, large numbers of submarines, and the greatest armies in the world, the pact, he insisted, would plainly constitute a military alliance more powerful than any the world has ever before seen.

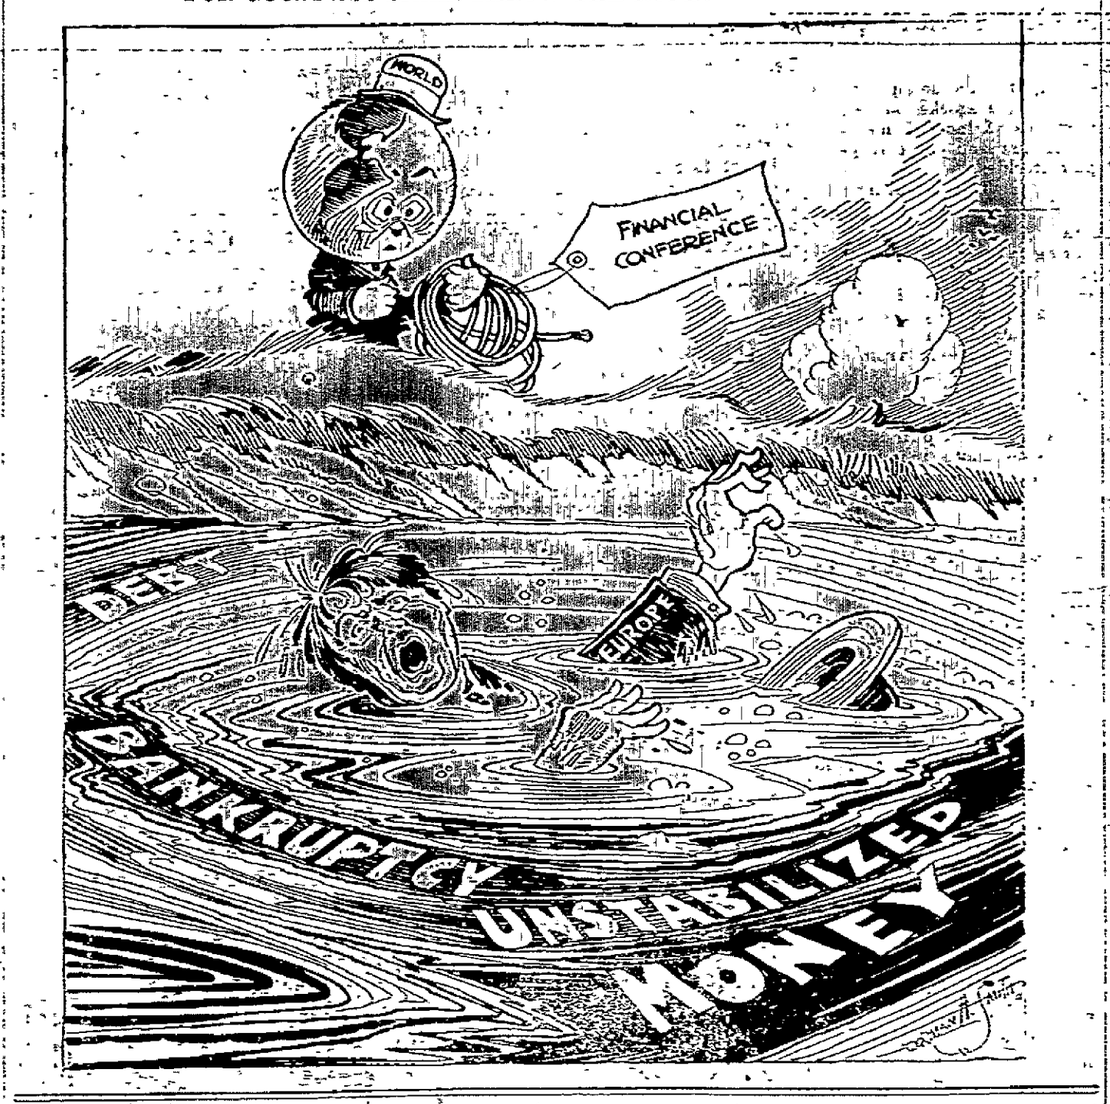
FOR GOODNESS SAKE, THROW THE ROPE!



FEWER AUCTIONS

The whack of the auctioneer's gavel is not heard in the country so frequently as it was a year or two ago. The editor of a leading farmers' journal comments upon the fact that there are fewer sales this fall and ventures the interpretation that "more farmers are coming to appreciate that they are in the best line of business."

The phenomenon is interesting in view of the fact that agriculture has slumped from an era of unprecedently high prices to one in which the level is disproportionately low as compared with all other market averages. Everywhere farmers are talking discouragement but sticking to the farm. Two years ago when potatoes sold like oranges and "good as wheat" was a stronger phrase than "good as gold", auction sales of farming equipment and even farms were of daily occurence. These were indications, not of unprofitable business on the farms, but of a speculative fever fomented by real estate manipulators. Many farmers who through long years of toil and economy had acquired their property, were induced to "cash in" and retire on what seemed to them a competence. The buyer was persuaded through glib talk of big money to be made at the present high prices. And so land sales values were boosted with each turnover and every auction sale celebrated the recording of a bigger mortgage.

The auctions have stopped. This is at least a sympton of an improvement. The farmers who did not succumb to the lure of speculation doubtless are persuaded that "they are in the best line of business." But because of the wild, unbalanced period of pyramiding, the farming business has suffered severely. Many farm holders find themselves in a business capitalized far beyond the hope of fair returns now that the bottom is out of the market. There will be many losses and much disappointment. The best that can be said is that the good productive land represents a solid permanent value and those who treat it highly and do business on a basis of honest dealing and careful financing, will find themselves secure in a livelihood that is independent and honorable.

"ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKE"

Everyone will admit that there is some difference between the language which the Englishman calls his own and that which the American has adopted as his mother tongue. The representatives of both countries it has afforded amusement to note minor distinctions and not seldom it has been attempted to prove that one is better than the other.

Time was when such argument was indulged in with a good deal of acrimony, one learned advocate of better speech in America going as far as to assert that the time would come when Americans would no longer be able to understand the works of Milton, Pope, Swift, Addison and other English authors without the aid of translation into what would some day be called the American tongue.

But although it was more than 100 years ago that this prophecy was made, we do not yet stand in need of such translation. According to a recent writer on the subject we stand less in need of it today than we did a century ago. He shows that many of the specimens collected by British writers on this subject are not Americanisms at all; they are mere colonialisms, the like of which an American would observe more abundantly in England.

Much of the difference seems to arise out of the fact that frequently writers on this subject compare the educated speech of England with any peculiarity of American speech that may be found anywhere. As is pointed out by this latest writer on the subject "if the talk of street loafers in American cities, and the verbal peculiarities of outlying regions are to be counted as American speech we must also take account of the lingo of the slums of London and Edinburgh and Cork."

Significant for arriving at an understanding of what each century is contributing to the development of the English tongue is the statement that "English conservatism is a valuable preservation of the written language," and that "American energy and invention are always likely to outstrip this English characteristic in giving direction to current speech." We Americans, in other words, play the role of pioneers in the development of the common language. Of late years we have given the language innumerable words and turns of speech.

HORSE WILL STAGE COME-BACK IN CITIES, ILLINOIS MAN STATES

Chicago—The horse is coming back in the big cities, according to Wirth S. Dunham of Wayne, Ill., president of the Horse Association of America.

"There has been a tremendous change in public opinion in favor of the horse," Mr. Dunham said. "Chicago is using 2,000 more than last year. Philadelphia shows an increase of 25 per cent, and in New York also the horse has made gains."

Mr. Dunham declared that the most complete cost system his association has been able to obtain, made by one of the biggest of Chicago's department stores, showed a saving of $4,000 a year in favor of horses.

The president of the horse association called attention to needs of the horse in road building. "In the east the good roads system is getting to improvement of local roads," he said, "and roads are being put in without reference to the horse. No provision is made for him on the side of the hard surface. The position of the horse in agriculture as a form of power and a source of pleasure demands that some attention be given him on the roads."

There is great need for production of better horses, Mr. Dunham noted.

"Blessings To My Wife" Declares Denver Man

WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM TEN YEARS OF BEING "RUN DOWN" AND NERVOUS NOW ENJOYED BY MRS. ANDERSON.

Mr. Frank Anderson of 2823 Larimer St., in Denver, tells Burrell, the representative of the new product, Garren's Tonic, which is creating such wide spread interest throughout the entire West, that if his wife's appetite continues to improve he will have to invest in groceries instead of medicine.

"For the past ten years," continued Mr. Anderson, "my wife has been run down and suffered with dreadful attacks of indigestion. Gas would form on her stomach and bloat her so terribly until she would have pain all through the pit of her stomach, besides frightful headaches four and five times a month. She also had dizzy spells and was constipated all the time. She would have to stop her house work during these dizzy spells and sit down to rest. Her appetite was poor and, at night she was awfully restless and nervous.

She had tried many kinds of remedies and medicines which only gave her temporary relief, when I saw Garren's Tonic advertisement in the paper and decided I would get a bottle so she could try it. She is now on her third bottle and the results are wonderful for she is a different woman. Her appetite has improved so she can eat most anything she wants and she never complains of any more pain. Her nerves are perfectly calm, and she sleeps all night. Her constipation has been relieved, consequently the headaches and dizzy spells are disappearing. I am glad to recommend Garren's Tonic."

Madison, Wis., Dec. 12—The program of the Wisconsin union of the equity society will be mapped out here on Wednesday when the board of directors and executive committee of the society meet here.

Plans for making an assessment against each member, in order to clear up outstanding debts, will be discussed and a definite method of assessment decided on at the Wednesday meeting. George L. EQUITY BOARD IS PLANNING PROGRAM

Madison, Wis., Dec. 12—The program of the Wisconsin union of the equity society will be mapped out here on Wednesday when the board of directors and executive committee of the society meet here.

Plans for making an assessment against each member; in order to clear up outstanding debts, will be discussed and a definite method of assessment decided on at the Wednesday meeting, George L. Staudenmayer, state senator, and member of the executive committee of the board, says. This levy is expected to meet all outstanding obligations.

Senator Standenmayer says that the board is making arrangements for publication of the Equity News that will make it selfsupporting. The paper is said to have lost several thousands of dollars during the past year, under the present contract.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the board, salaries of the president and treasurer will be set. It is reported by Senator Staudenmayer that a reduction in the salary of the president is contemplated by some of the members of the committee.

He believes that the Wednesday meeting will provide an outline of action that will mean renewed activity and progress for the society.

CHEKA OBSTACLE TO TRADE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Moscow—(By a staff correspondent of The Associated Press)—Leslie Urquhart's recent announcement in London that no foreigners will ever be able to do business in Russia while the Cheka (commission to suppress counter-revolutions) holds its present power has become generally known in Soviet Russia and has attracted much attention.

Mr. Urquhart was recently in Russia negotiating with the Commissariat for Foreign Trade to take over extensive mining properties and metal works, many of which he controlled before the revolution. While the negotiations were proceeding a strange many appeared in the conference room Mr. Urquhart inquired who he.

"Oh that's the representative of the Cheka," was the reply.

"But I am not dealing with the Cheka and I shall not discuss business before this man," the English mining man protested.

Leonid Krassin, Minister of Commerce, and other negotiators explained that the Cheks were privileged to be represented at all conferences.

Mr. Urquhart was obdurate. The Cheka man refused to leave until telephone instructions from the Cheka headquarters withdrew him.

Confirm Appointments

Diplomats and commercial representatives selected by the chiefs at the Kremlin to go abroad are passed on by the Cheka and a large percentage of the appointments are never confirmed.

Even the crowd which stands at the head of the Soviet government and is privileged to live within the historic walls of the Kremlin is reported to be powerless against the super-government which has grown up about the Cheka.

At one time, Djerjinski and Jacob Peters and the other men who figured as the heads of Cheka activities when the Red terror took place were regarded as dummies raised to take blame which the commissars, who make up the council, or cabinet and members of the central executive committee did not wish to shoulder.

But the opinion is now strongly grounded among Russians of all classes that the Cheka is a very real institution. The higher personnel in the organization changes frequently, or at least pretends to change. However Djarjinski and Minjinsky and Peters and other men whose names have figured prominently in Cheka activities may never be able to persuade the average Russian that they have really left the organization.

Umslicht is at the present moment the man who is generally supposed to be the active head of the Cheka. He has his office in the central headquarters of the organization, which occupies a large office building in the business center of Moscow, overlooking the Kremlin walls.

Americans Unmolested

The Cheka building is six stories high and is triangular in shape with a court in the center. Much of the space facing the court has been turned into cells and is the Lubianka prison, where most important political pirsoners are kept.

Rumor has it that executions take place in the cellar of this building, and pedestrians often report that they have heard shots when walking near the building. Muscovites seldom walk close enough to the Cheka headquarters to hear cannon shots in the cellar. The streets adjoining it are not popular promenades.

Erduk, the laiason officer when the Bolshevik government has named to be the go-between for the American Relief Administration and the Kremlin is a Cheka man.

Colonel Haskell's organization has had no trouble with the Cheka, which is apparently satisfied that the Americans came to Russia to feed starving children and are not trying to interfere with Russian politics.

ACTIVITY BELIES AGE

Sheboygan—William Jones, the oldest resident of Sheboygan Falls celebrated his ninty-sixth birthday anniversary recently. Mr. Jones though he is nearing the century mark is as active as one twenty-five years younger, and almost everyday may be seen down town doing errards.

POLICEWOMAN A SUCCESS

Wausau—The experiment of adding a policewoman to the local force is proving quite successful, according to officials. Mrs. George A. Stephenson was given the appointment a month ago by Mayor Emil Flatter and Chief of Police Thomas Malone states that the results have been all that were promised. Mrs. Stephenson attends dances and preserves order. Her efforts have also resulted in a large decrease in the ranks of the "street mashers" and women and girls are now seldom bothered.

Zion, Ill.— Glenn Voliva is now mapping out a thorough campaign of the entire state of Wisconsin. He has announced that he will hold a big rally in Milwaukee, on March 12th, and will be accompanied on that date by Zion White Robed Choir of 500 voices, Zion band of fifty pieces, Zion Orchestra. Zion guards, and a number of women workers.

Deaconesses Helen Bahmann and Belle Schelhorn, known in New York as the "Zion Angels" have already been dispatched to Milwaukee and they began operations as an advance guard today. The deaconesses were famed in New York for their strong Blue Law tendencies, they being opposed to vulgarity in dress, dancing, theaters, etc., and while in New York they drew forth an army of reporters and a battery of cameramen.

After the Milwaukee campaign, Voliva will turn his attention to Illinois and will hold a big rally in Chicago on April 9 when he will be accompanied by the choir, band and orchestra.

"You've got to get out and dust," he said as he discussed his plans.

LITTLE LOGGING ACTIVITY

Wausau—The Brooks and Ross Lumber Company of Schofield has two logging camps in the woods, but their cut will be much below that of other years. The B. Hememann Lumber company of Wausau is also doing only a small amount of loging and the Jacob Mortenson company will depend for its log supply principally upon stocks secured from jobbers and farmers. The Wausau Paper Mills company is logging a considerable tract of land in Lincoln county which was burned over forcing the work at this time.

MEAT PACKERS CLAIM PRODUCTION NORMAL

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Dec. 12—Packing house officials declared today that the strike of the past week has not materially interfered with normal operations. The packers stand firm in their refusal to meet the overtures of the union leaders for arbitration of the difficulties.

Union officials have gone to Washington to lay the strike and wage question before President Harding and the department of labor.

FIND COUNTERFEIT ARGENTINE STAMPS

Buenos Aires—A swindle of large proportions has been perpetrated on the Argentine Post Office Department by the printing and sale of false five cent stamps. The sale of these stamps apparently has been going on possibly for years but it was only recently discovered. The Department has ordered the withdrawal of the issue in question.

The Post Office Department admitted that the fraudulent stamps were practically identical with the authorized ones and that it was not possible to trace the source of the questionable supply.

Five cent stamps bearing the portrait of General San Martin no longer are accepted in payment for postage.

STEVENS POINT FARMER CALLS IT WONDERFUL

George W. Hoffman, R. R. 5, Stevens Point, Wis., says he has tried a good many medicines in his life but none ever did him any good until he took Kozak.

"I had been troubled with headaches, severe pains in my back, and pains and dizziness after eating. Heartburn and loss of appetite were among my symptoms. At times I was unable to sleep either.

"Well, Kozak took right ahold and soon relieved me of everything that ailed me. My old troubles are gone, thanks to this wonderful remedy." Kozak sold here by Church; Milladore, Malek; Pittsville, Dietz; Nekoosa, Dennis.—Advertisement.

Moscow—(By a staff correspondent of The Associated Press)—Leslie Urquhart's recent announcement in London that no foreigners will ever be able to do business in Russia while the Cheka (commission to suppress counter-revolutions) holds its present power has become generally known in Soviet Russia and has attracted much attention.

Mr. Urquhart was recently in Russia negotiating with the Commissariat for Foreign Trade to take over extensive mining properties and metal works, many of which he controlled before the revolution. While the negotiations were proceeding a strange many appeared in the conference room. Mr. Urquhart inquired who he "Oh that's the representative of the Cheka," was the reply.

"But I am not dealing with the Cheka and I shall not discuss business before this man," the English mining man protested.

Leonid Krassin, Minister of Commerce, and other negotiators explained that the Cheka were privileged to be represented at all conferences.

Mr. Urquhart was obdurate. The Cheka man refused to leave until telephone instructions from the Cheka headquarters withdrew him.

Confirm Appointments

Diplomats and commercial representatives selected by the chiefs at the Kremlin to go abroad are passed on by the Cheka and a large percentage of the appointments are never confirmed.

Even the crowd which stands at the head of the Soviet government and is privileged to live within the historic walls of the Kremlin is reported to be powerless against the super-government which has grown up about the Cheka.

At one time, Djerjinski and Jacob Peters and the other men who figured as the heads of Cheka activities when the Red terror took place were regarded as dummies raised to take blame which the commissars, who make up the council, or cabinet and members of the central executive committee did not wish to shoulder.

But the opinion is now strongly grounded among Russians of all classes that the Cheka is a very real institution. The higher personnel in the organization changes frequently, or at least pretends to change. However Djarjinski and Minjinsky and Peters and other men whose names have figured prominently in Cheka activities may never be able to persuade the average Russian that they have really left the organization.

Unslicht is at the present moment the man who is generally supposed to be the active head of the Cheka. He has his office in the central headquarters of the organization, which occupies a large office building in the business center of Moscow, overlooking the Kremlin walls.

Americans Unmolested

The Cheka building is six stories high and is triangular in shape with a court in the center. Much of the space facing the court has been turned into cells and is the Lubianka prison, where most important political pirsoners are kept.

Rumor has it that executions take place in the cellar of this building, and pedestrians often report that they have heard shots when walking near the building. Muscovites seldom walk close enough to the Cheka headquarters to hear cannon shots in the cellar. The streets adjoining it are not popular promenades.

Eyduk, the laiason officer when the Bolshevik government has named to be the go-between for the American Relief Administration and the Kremlin is a Cheka man.

Colonel Haskell's organization has had no trouble with the Cheka, which is apparently satisfied that the Americans came to Russia to feed starving children and are not trying to interfere with Russian politics.

ACTIVITY BELIES AGE

Sheboygan—William Jones, the oldest resident of Sheboygan Falls celebrated his ninty-sixth birthday anniversary recently. Mr. Jones though he is nearing the century mark is as active as one twenty-five years younger, and almost everyday may be seen down town doing errands.

POLICEWOMAN A SUCCESS

Wausau—The experiment of adding a policewoman to the local force is proving quite successful, according to officials. Mrs. George A. Stephenson was given the appointment a month ago by Mayor Emil Flatter and Chief of Police Thomas Malone states that the results have been all that were promised. Mrs. Stephenson attends dances and preserves order. Her efforts have also resulted in a large decrease in the ranks of the "street mashers" and women and girls are now seldom bothered.

Zion, Ill.— Glenn Voliva is now mapping out a thorough campaign of the entire state of Wisconsin. He has announced that he will hold a big rally in Milwaukee, on March 12th, and will be accompanied on that date by Zion White Robed Choir of 500 voices, Zion band of fifty pieces, Zion Orchestra, Zion guards, and a number of women workers.

Deaconesses Helen Eubmann and Belle Schelhorn, known in New York as the "Zion Angels" have already been dispatched to Milwaukee and they began operations as an advance guard today. The deaconesses were famed in New York for their strong Blue Law tendencies, they being opposed to vulgarity in dress, dancing, theaters, etc., and while in New York they drew forth an army of reporters and a battery of camera men.

After the Milwaukee campaign, Voliva will turn his attention to Illinois and will hold a big rally in Chicago on April 9 when he will be accompanied by the choir, band and orchestra.

"You've got to get out and dust," he said as he discussed his plans.

LITTLE LOGGING ACTIVITY

Wausau—The Brooks and Ross Lumber Company of Schofield has two logging camps in the woods, but their cut will be much below that of other years. The B. Heinemann Lumber company of Wausau is also doing only a small amount of loging and the Jacob Mortenson company will depend for its log supply principally upon stocks secured from jobbers and farmers. The Wausau Paper Mills company is logging a considerable tract of land in Lincoln county which was burned over forcing the work at this time.

MEAT PACKERS CLAIM PRODUCTION NORMAL

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Dec. 12—Packing house officials declared today that the strike of the past week has not materially interfered with normal operations. The packers stand firm in their refusal to meet the overtures of the union leaders for arbitration of the difficulties.

Union officials have gone to Washington to lay the strike and wage question before President Harding and the department of labor.

FIND COUNTERFEIT ARGENTINE STAMPS

Buenos Aires—A swindle of large proportions has been perpetrated on the Argentine Post Office Department by the printing and sale of false five cent stamps. The sale of these stamps apparently has been going on possibly for years but it was only recently discovered. The Department has ordered the withdrawal of the issue in question.

The Post Office Department admitted that the fraudulent stamps were practically identical with the authorized ones and that it was not possible to trace the source of the questionable supply.

Five cent stamps bearing the portrait of General San Martin no longer are accepted in payment for postage.

STEVENS POINT FARMER CALLS IT WONDERFUL

George W. Hoffman, R. R. 5, Stevens Point, Wis., says he has tried a good many medicines in his life but none ever did him any good until he took Kozak.

"I had been troubled with headaches, severe pains in my back, and pains and dizziness after eating. Heartburn and loss of appetite were among my symptoms. At times I was unable to sleep either.

"Well, Kozak took right ahold and soon relieved me of everything that ailed me. My old troubles are gone, thanks to this wonderful remedy." Kozak sold here by Church; Milladore; Malek; Pittsville, Dietz; Nekoosa, Dennis.—Advertisement.

IOWA WOMEN TOLD COMFORTABLE SHOES BRING GOOD LOOKS

Iowa City, Ia.—Shoes that conform to the shape of a woman's foot are a recipe for continued good looks and youthfulness advanced by Marion R. Lyon, head of the physical education department for women at the University of Iowa. In a talk before all the freshman women of the university Miss Lyon took a stand for low heels and broader toes with shoes conforming to the feet and not feet squeezed out of shape by the shoes.

"Tight shoes will put wrinkles in the face as well as the feet," declares Miss Lyon. "They have a great deal to do with posture, too. No woman can walk properly when her feet are cramped in an exceedingly uncomfortable position."

Miss Lyon made the surprising statement that over ninety per cent of the university women students have curved spines or poor postures. Much of this could be corrected, she said, if girls would persistently practice the exercises for curved spines, sunken chests, and round shoulders.

That Sunday School Class!

Wishing to become acquainted with the methods of her predecessor, a young woman who taught a Sunday school class for the first time asked the group of bright-faced six-year olds what the lesson had been the previous Sunday. Silence prevailed for a moment. Then a snub-nosed urchin waved his hand frantically and when granted permission to speak, answered: "It was about burning the bugs in the church." Conversation with the former teacher afterwards revealed that the lesson had been "Burning Incense in the Temple."

The Green Pea Pirates

By PETER B. KYNE

Author of "Webster—Man's Man," "The Valley of the Giants," Etc.

Copyright, by Peter B. Kyne

"Scraggsy," said Mr. Gibney, "your fin. We've fought, but we'll let that go. We wipe the slate clean and start in all over again on the Maggie II, and I'm free to state, without fear of contradiction, that in the last embroglio you showed up like four aces and a king with the entire company standin' pat. Scraggsy, you're a hero, and what you propose proves that you're considerable of a singed cat—better'n you look. We'll go freebootin' down on the Gold coast. There's war, red war, breakin' loose down there, and we'll slip in our horseshoe with the strongest side and pry loose a fortune somewhere. I'm for a life of wild adventure, and now that we've got the ship and the funds and the crew, let's go to it. There's a deal of fine liquor in the wardroom, and I suggest that we nominate Phineas Scraggs, late master of the battleship Maggie, now second in command of the Maggie II, to brew a kettle o' hot grog to celebrate our victory. Mac—Scraggsy—your fins. I'm proud of you both. Shake."

They shook and as Captain Gibney's ere wandered aloft, First Mate Scraggs and Chief Engineer McGuffey looked up also. From the main topmast of the Maggie II floated a long blue burgee, with white lettering on it, and as it whipped out into the breeze the old familiar name stood out against the noonday sun.

"Good old dishcloth!" murmured Mr. Gibney. "She never comes down."

"The Maggie forever!" shrieked Scraggs.

"Hooray!" bellowed McGuffey. "An' now, Scraggsy, if you've got all the enthusiasm out of your blood, kick in with a hundred an' fifty dollars an' interest to date. An' don't tell me that note's outlawed, or I'll feed you to the fishes."

Captain Scraggs looked crestfallen, but produced the money.

CHAPTER X.

"Well, Scraggsy, old hunks, this is pleasant, ain't it?" said Mr. Gibney, as he spat on the deck of the Maggie II.

"Right-o," replied Captain Scraggs cheerily, "though when I was a young feller and first went to sea, it wasn't considered no pleasantry to spit on a nice clean deck. You might cut that out, Gib. It's vulgar."

"Passin' over the fact, Scraggs, that you ain't got no call to jerk me up on sea ettycat, more particular since I'm the master and managin' owner of this here schooner, I'm free to confess, Scraggsy, that your observation does you credit. I just did that to see if you was goin' to take as big an interest in the new Maggie as you did in the old Maggie, and the fact that you object to me expectoratin' on the deck proves to me that you're leavin' behind you all them bay scow tendencies of the green-pea trade. It leads me to believe that you'll rise to high rank and distinction in the Colombian navy. Your fin, Scraggsy. Expectorate on the decks is barred, and the Maggie II goes under navy discipline from now on. Am I right?"

"Right as a right whale," said Captain Scraggs. "And now that you've given that old mate of mine the course, and we've temporarily plugged up the holes in this here Mexican gunboat, and everything points to a safe and profitable voyage from now on, suppose you delegate me as a committee of one to brew a scuttle of grog, after which, the syndicate holds a meetin' and lays out a course for its future conduct. There's a few questions of rank and privileges that ought to be settled once and for all, so there can't be no mutiny."

"The point is well taken and it is so ordered," said Mr. Gibney, who had once held office in Harbor 15, Master and Pilots Association of America, and knew a fragment or two of parliamentary law. "Hustle up the grog, call McGuffey up out of the engine room, and we'll hold the meetin'."

Twenty minutes later Scraggs came on deck to announce the successful concoction of a kettle of whisky punch; whereupon the three adventurers went below and sat down at the cabin table for a conference.

"I move that Gib be appointed president of the syndicate," said Captain Scraggs.

"Second the motion," rumbled McGuffey.

"The motion's carried," said Mr. Gibney, and banged the table with his horny fist. "The meetin' will please come to order. The chair hereby appoints Phineas Scraggs secretary of the syndicate, to keep a record of this and all future meetin's of the board. I will now entertain propositions of any and all natures, and I invite the members of the board to knock the stopper out of their jaw tackle and go to it."

"I move," said Captain Scraggs, "that B. McGuffey, Esquire, be, and he is hereby appointed, chief engineer of the Maggie II at a salary not to exceed the wage schedule of the Marine Engineers' Association of the Pacific coast, and that he be voted a one-fourth interest in the vessel and all subsequent profits."

"Second the motion," said Mr. Gibney, "and not to hamper the business of the meetin', we'll just consider that motion carried unanimous."

B. McGuffey, Esquire, rose, bowed his thanks, and sat down again, apparently very much confused. It was evident that he had something to say, but was having difficulty framing his thoughts in parliamentary language.

"Heave away, Mac," said Mr. Gibney.

"Cast off your lines, McGuffey," chirped Scraggs.

Health turns the Clock Backward

DOES SCIATICA MAKE YOU A CRIPPLE?

TUESDAY HEALTH TALK, NO. 57

By W. C. Weirick, D.C.

Uncle Ben says: "Nevvy, the healthy man generally finishes what he starts and the sick man is a starter who don't finish."

Does sciatica make you a cripple, unable to get out of bed? Or is you case a mild one that merely makes moving around a misery and pain a constant companion? In either event you are unable to work or think, and you are making others suffer, with you, for that is the law of life.

Sciatica is a form of neuritis or neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. It may be present without either liver or kidneys being inactive. In this respect it differs from rheumatism, which is always accompanied by costiveness and kidney trouble. Sciatica is caused by pressure on the sheath of the sciatic nerve and this pressure causes an inflammation and swelling of the sheath, which compresses the nerve and causes the constant pain which is the characteristic of this disease.

TWO YEARS OF SUFFERING ENDS

"Fore more than two years prior to consulting a chiropractor, I had been suffering with sciatic rheumatism. In August, 1919, I was suffering intense pain and it was so bad that I was unable to work and in fact, was unable to move about at all. The first chiropractic spinal adjustment brought relief but I continued through December when I was discharged. I have been shoving boxes ever since without return of the trouble."—John Schauss, Chiropractic Research Bureau. Sworn Statement No. 12818.

Expectoratin' on the decks is barred, and the Maggie II goes under navy discipline from now on. Am I right?"

"Right as a right whale," said Captain Scraggs. "And now that you've given that old mate of mine the course, and we've temporarily plugged up the holes in this here Mexican gunboat, and everything points to a safe and profitable voyage from now on, suppose you delegate me as a committee of one to brew a scuttle of grog, after which the syndicate holds a meetin' and lays out a course for its future conduct. There's a few questions of rank and privileges that ought to be settled once and for all, so there can't be no come-back."

"The point is well taken and it is so ordered," said Mr. Gibney, who had once held office in Harbor 15, Master and Pilots Association of America, and knew a fragment or two of parliamentary law. "Rustle up the grog, call McGuffey up out of the engine room, and we'll hold the meetin'."

Twenty minutes later Scraggs came on deck to announce the successful concoction of a kettle of whisky punch; whereupon the three adventurers went below and sat down at the cabin table for a conference.

"I move that Gib be appointed president of the syndicate," said Captain Scraggs.

"Second the motion," rumbled McGuffey.

"The motion's carried," said Mr. Gibney, and banged the table with his horny fist. "The meetin' will please come to order. The chair hereby appoints Phineas Scraggs secretary of the syndicate, to keep a record of this and all future meetin's of the board. I will now entertain propositions of any and all natures, and I invite the members of the board to knock the stopper out of their jaw tackle and go to it."

"I move," said Captain Scraggs, "that B. McGuffey, Esquire, be, and he is hereby appointed, chief engineer of the Maggie II at a salary not to exceed the wage schedule of the Marine Engineers' Association of the Pacific coast, and that he be voted a one-fourth interest in the vessel and all subsequent profits."

"Second the motion," said Mr. Gibney, "and not to hamper the business of the meetin', we'll just consider that motion carried unanimous."

B. McGuffey, Esquire, rose, bowed his thanks, and sat down again, apparently very much confused. It was evident that he had something to say, but was having difficulty framing his thoughts in parliamentary language.

"Heave away, Mac," said Mr. Gibney.

"Cast off your lines, McGuffey," chirped Scraggs.

Health turns the Clock Backward

DOES SCIATICA MAKE YOU A CRIPPLE?

TUESDAY HEALTH TALK, NO. 57

By W. C. Weirick, D.C.

Uncle Ben says: "Nevvy, the healthy man generally finishes what he starts and the sick man is a starter who don't finish."

Does sciatica make you a cripple, unable to get out of bed? Or is you case a mild one that merely makes moving around a misery and pain a constant companion? In either event you are unable to work or think, and you are making others suffer with you, for that is the law of life.

Sciatica is a form of neuritis or neuralgia of the sciatic nerve. It may be present without either liver or kidneys being inactive. In this respect it differs from rheumatism, which is always accompanied by costiveness and kidney trouble. Sciatica is caused by pressure on the sheath of the sciatic nerve and this pressure causes an inflammation and swelling of the sheath, which compresses the nerve and causes the constant pain which is the characteristic of this disease.

TWO YEARS OF SUFFERING ENDS

"Fore more than two years prior to consulting a chiropractor, I had been suffering with sciatic rheumatism. In August, 1919, I was suffering intense pain and it was so bad that I was unable to work and in fact, was unable to move about at all. The first chiropractic spinal adjustment brought relief but I continued through December when I was discharged. I have been shoeing horses ever since without return of the trouble."—John Schauss, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Sworn Statement No. 12831.

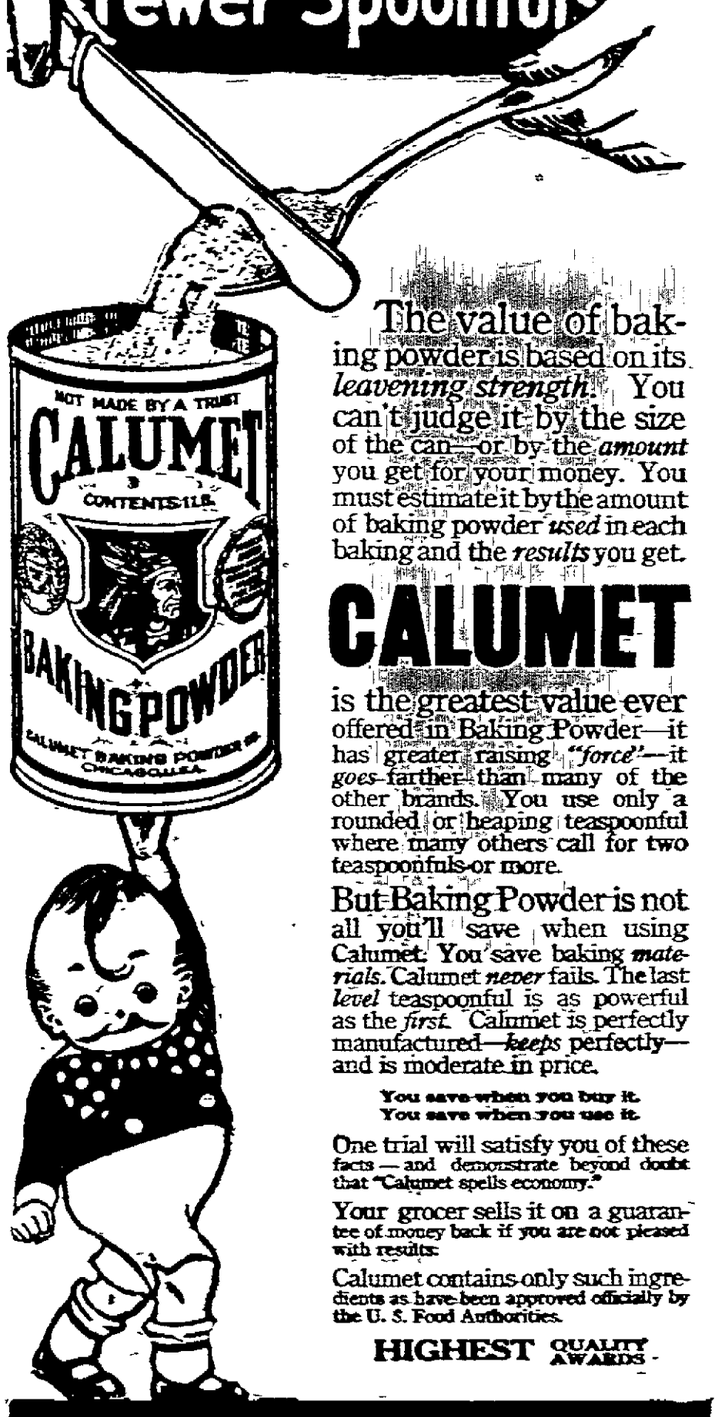
GREATER STRENGTH Fewer Spoonfuls



The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising "force"—it goes farther than many of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where many others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it.
You save when you use it.

One trial will satisfy you of these facts — and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Coffee

Individual tastes can best be pleased this way.

Vanity Delicious

Kickbusch Quality Blends of Coffee are blended to suit the most discriminating taste. A trial will convince you—

"So, Why Hesitate"

The choicest of blends may be spoiled in the making. To make good Coffee:
1. Be sure the Coffee pot is absolutely clean.
2. Grind the Coffee fresh, just before making.
3. Use no "left over" Coffee liquor nor grounds.
4. Use cold water, one cup to each tablespoon — level-full — of finely ground Coffee and allow to slowly COME to the boiling point—NEVER BOIL COFFEE.

These rules are for Kickbusch blends. Most other coffees require heaping

The value of baking powder is based on its leavening strength. You can't judge it by the size of the can—or by the amount you get for your money. You must estimate it by the amount of baking powder used in each baking and the results you get.

CALUMET

is the greatest value ever offered in Baking Powder—it has greater raising "force"—it goes farther than many of the other brands. You use only a rounded or heaping teaspoonful where many others call for two teaspoonfuls or more.

But Baking Powder is not all you'll save when using Calumet. You save baking materials. Calumet never fails. The last level teaspoonful is as powerful as the first. Calumet is perfectly manufactured—keeps perfectly—and is moderate in price.

You save when you buy it.
You save when you use it.

One trial will satisfy you of these facts — and demonstrate beyond doubt that "Calumet spells economy."

Your grocer sells it on a guarantee of money back if you are not pleased with results.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

DEVINE NOW OUT TO MAKE HAWKEYE BASKETBALL FIVE

GRID STAR WILL HAVE STIFF JOB TO WIN POSITION WITH IOWA CAGING OUTFIT

Iowa City, Ia.—Aubrey Devine "wonder man" of the University of Iowa football eleven, who led the Western Conference in individual scoring honors, promises to shine as brilliantly in basketball this season as he did on the gridiron. He has been a member of the Iowa quintette for the last two seasons. But it appears to make the coming season his best in the cage sport.

After a weeks' rest following the close of the football season, which resulted in Iowa's championship triumph, Devine reported for basketball practice determined to win a name for himself in this sport, as he did in football.

Means Nine "I's"

Aubrey is likely to be the third man in the history of athletics at Iowa to win nine "I's." He already has been awarded six letters and his seventh is assured from football. There is no doubt of his winning a letter in track next spring, provided he doesn't break a leg. Basketball appears to be his hardest battle.

When Aubrey first came out for the court game two seasons ago he won a place as a regular with little trouble. Last year the task was more difficult; he was closely pressed for his place much of the time. This winter it looks as if competition will be stiffer than ever. In fact, there are seven or eight men capable of holding down a place on the Varsity. Aubrey started as a forward. This season he is more likely to break in at stationary guard.

Team Looks Good

Iowa basketball practice has been speeded up since the close of the football season. Coach Ashmore is drilling his men in a new style of offense that partly gets away from the short passing game the Iowans have been accustomed to use. Last year teh Iowa defense was one of the surprises of the "Big Ten" but an effort will be made to keep opposing scores lower than ever this winter.

Captain Frank Shimek is working in at running guard this year. Barton, a freshman last season, seems to have the inside track at center, but is being closely pressed by Kelloway, McGovney, Lohman, Gordon, Frohwein, and Hurlburt are waging a hard battle for the forward positions. Voltmer has had the inside track at back guard, but will have competition from Devine now that Aubrey is out. The material is experienced, but is not believed to be up to the usual "Big Ten" standard.

Meet Badgers First

Iowa's opening game will be with Wisconsin at Iowa City, Jan. 7. The schedule with conference teams follows:

Jan. 7—Wisconsin at Iowa City.
Jan. 14—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Jan. 21—Purdue at Lafayette.
Feb. 11—Chicago at Chicago.
Feb. 13—Wisconsin at Madison.
Feb. 18—Ohio at Iowa City.
Feb. 23—Minnesota at Iowa City.
Feb. 27—Michigan at Iowa City.
Mar. 4—Michigan at Ann Arbor.
Mar. 5—Ohio at Columbus.

BADGER BALL TEAM WILL TAKE TRAINING TRIP THROUGH SOUTH

Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin baseball team will enter the south this year for the first spring training trip ever taken by the Badger varsity nine. The trip will be taken during the vacation period of April.

While no definite arrangements have been completed, the Wisconsin coach hopes to have the Badgers meet Alabama university, Mississippi University, and the Mississippi Agricultural College in two contests apiece. If unable to schedule with these schools he plans to arrange to play the University of Tennessee. Six games will be played on the trip.

The squad loses six regular men from the last year team, but strong material is available to fill in the holes. The graduation of Williams, star pitcher, who won everyone of his games last season, is the hardest blow, while some difficulty will be had in locating a catcher to step into Davey's shoes.

Training will commence in the cage shortly after Christmas, when a call will be sent for the players. The spring trip is expected to be a special inducement for material, and a large squad is expected to turn out.

NEKOOSA HIGH LOSES FIRST BASKET GAME

The Alexander high school basket five lost its first game of the season to the high school alumni team Saturday evening. The game was not decided until the final whistle was blown when the alumni emerged on the long end of a 25 to 21 score.

The high school boys put up a good game throughout, and although light, have plenty of speed and ability at handling the ball.
